TO OUST THE WEST, The Twelve-club Circuit May Be Disrupted Before Next Year-An Fastern and a Western League or a Circuit of Eight Cities on the 1889 Plan the Present Scheme The Schedule of Games Causes a Renewal of Kicke from Western Magnates, and Kerr of Pittsburgh Says the

Break Is Sure to Come-Other News,

That the National League's twelve-club circuit may be disrupted before another season seems to be now a foregone conclusion. The combination of certain Eastern magnates who The New Yorks May Play Their First are anxious to force matters to an issue and divide the leading baseball cities into an Eastern and a Western league got in some very fine work at the recent League meeting in this city. Last November, when the magnates held their annual fall conclave here, THE SUN pointed out the fact that the big clubs of the East were tired of their Western allies and were ready to break up the twelve-club circuit when a chance was offered. The first move to put the screws on to the Western clubs was when the 10 per cent, payment into the League treasury was abolished. It will be remembered that the Boston, New York, Philadelphia. Baltimore, and Brooklyn clubs were tired of making such an annual payment when the Western clubs, with the exception of Pittsburgh, paid little or nothing because of their smaller receipts and yet came in for an equal division at the end of the season. In order to put this scheme through, the Eastern clubs fought for a 60 and 40 per cent. division of gate receipts, and held out until the Western people agreed to abolish the 10 per cent, payment, providing that the gate money be divided on a 50 per cent, basis.

In addition to an unwillingness to pay 10 per cent of their receipts into the League treasury. the Eastern clubs were dissatisfied over the remarkably poor attendance in various cities in the West. They claimed that the Western clubs in question carried away from the East nearly three times as much money as the East got in the West and that Louisville, St. Louis, Cleveland, and Chicago, barring Sunday games, were not profitable places to visit. As in the fall, the Eastern combination existed all winter and also at the recent spring meeting. It was clearly patent to the West what the scheme was, and the only plan of action deemed advisable was to yield to every demand of the Fast. The schedule of games adopted without a previous inspection is a clean knock-out for the West. It was supposedly drawn up by N. E. Young, but certain Eastern magnates had a hand in it, as the parcelling of plums clearly shows. The financial weakness of the majority of the Western clubs was unquestionably considered in the make-up of the schedule, for the arrangement of the games involved a change that was the first of its kind in the more recent history of the League. The fact that Eastern clubs will go West in May, a month that is not propitious for good weather in the West, especially in Chicago and Cleveland, and the shifting of the Eastern clubs to this end of the circuit on July 4 shows that the West is even worse off this season than ever before. Then, too, the playing of Western teams in the East in the early fall and the winding up of the season partially in both sections, instead of the old Western trip, makes it additionally clear how severely the Western clubs are handicapped. The adoption of the schedule was done in such a way that it was considered a good joke at the time. It will be recalled how Abell of Brooklyn moved that the dates be approved without looking at them, and that the motion was carried without a dissenting vote. New, however, comes a wall of distress from all the Western citob, and a claim that the Eastern magnates have thrown them down.

trass from all the Western clubs, and a claim that the Eastern magnates have thrown them down.

W. W. Kerr of the Pittsburgh Club does not hesitate to say that the unfair schedule will be the means of disrupting the twelve-club circuit. In Cleveland the chief complaint is that there will be no holiday date and that the team will have to play thirty-nine straight games at home in the middle of the summer. The Clevelands will also have to play themety-four and twenty-five straight games away from home. The Cincinnati cranks and club officials are howling because they will have no Fourth of July game. Von der Ahe of St. Louis is uttering frantic ories that he has been tricked, and the Louis-wille people are simply dazed.

In addition to the schedule, the Western clube are finding fault with the Eastern magnates because the latter to a man refused to give up any players in the many proposed deals. Cincinnati is red-syed over Ewing's failure to make certain trades with Philadolphia, New York, and Haltimore, and wants to know why Gumbert was awarded to Pittsburgh. Louisville people, that is, the officials of the club, are inconsed over the decision in the Pfeffer case, while the Chicago Club is equally put out because the great second baseman was not assigned to Anson. The general argument in the West is that the Eastern clubs were anxious to put every obstacle in the way of success, and to force the Western magnates to realize that they are not wanted.

But for two men, A. G. Spalding and John T. Brush, the Eastern clubs' scheme would have yest's that they assert that a war of success, and to force the Western magnates to realize that they are not wanted.

But for two men, A. G. Spalding and John T. Brush, the Eastern clubs' scheme would have plain sailing. Spalding's interests are so large that he is bound to have a hearing before any radical changes are made. Brush is a stockholder in the New York Club, and intends to remain so. These magnates enjoy a "pull" in League matters that is remarkable. Thus it will be a difficult matter to get Chicago and Cincinnati out of the way without hurting their feelings. It is understood that Pittsburgh is standing in on the proposed split, and will side with the East when the time comes, but Louisville, St. Louis, and Cleveland are not in the very best position. Dr. Stuckey's actions in the Pfeffer case served to sour nearly all the League men, and Von der Ahe's departure for the recent League meeting and his denunciation of League methods weakened his cause. As regards Cleveland, it comes on pretty good authority that Robison incurred the emily of several League moguls when he threatened to sail his club out a year ago.

The New York Club's position in this matter is clearly defined. President Freedman is in favor of an Eastern and a Western league or an eight-club league, such as existed before the Brotherhood war. Brooklyn can be put down for a bl-sectional arrangement. In case of an Eastern league, the idea, it is said, will be to include Boston, Brooklyn, New York, Philiadelphia, Haltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, and Buffalo in the circuit. It is claimed that the finest talent in the country can be engaged for these cities, because of their superior drawing qualities. The West can take care of itself, according to, the way the schemers look at it, although a prohable circuit might turn out to be Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh in the West. This then means that the majority of the League men want to dissolve the twelve-club circuit, with the Eastern clubs sotering the scheme for all they a

WHY PRINCETON REFUSES.

From the Standpoint of a University of Pennsylvania Man

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.- The chief topic of conversation to-day is the official announcement by Princeton that she will hold no further atuletic contests with the University of Pennsylvania. A prominent university man said: It has been known for several weeks that

Princeton was looking for an excuse to justify her in taking such a step, but it has surprised all that she would offer such a weak one, namely, because the games occasion bitterness of feeling between the two institutions.' It is the general belief here that the real cause is to be found in an examination of the results of the contests between the two institutious during contests between the two institutious during 1804.

"In baseball Princeton won the first game by a score of 4 to 3. Fennsylvania wen the second by a score of 25 to 9. Princeton refused to play the third or deciding game. In track athletics Fennsylvania made 37% prints at the frinceton open games on May 2, while Princeton made only 25. On May 15 Fennsylvania defeated Princeton in the annual relay race by more time forty yards. At the Mott Haven athletic games held in New York on May 25 Pennsylvania scored 20% points, while Princeton did not score a single point. In football Pennsylvania won the annual game by a score of 12 to 0. Princeton does not support a crew or a cricket team, so there have been no coatests in these branches of sport.

art. Since athletics have been in the ascendancy at Pennsylvania she has wen from Princeton six out of the last ten games of baseball, two out of the last three annual football games, and has taken more points than Princeton at the Mott Haven athletic games during the last two years.

Pootball Players Meet,

The National Association Football League met last night at the Cricketers' Club, the following delegates being in attendance:

Graham Winters and P. J. Harrison, Centreville A. C.; W. Southern and J. A. Young, Brooklyn Wanderers; W. E. Gill and P. Fisk, Americus A. A.; B. Kelly and R. Johnson, Scottish-Americans.

The New Rochelle Club was unrepresented, It was reported that the game scheduled to have been played at Newark last Sunday between the Scottish-Americans and Americas A. A. did not take place owing to the fact that J. R. Conners, the referee for that occasion, did not put in an appearance, and the clubs not being able to agree to the fitness of the ground for plan assion leading to nothing took plac as to the litness of the ground for play. A long discussion leading to nothing took place as to why the game was not played, and it was at length agreed to call it a possponed game and have it played May 12 at Newark.

The system for registering was inquired into, and it was found after full particulars had been given that no improvement could be made upon it. Every player must be registered fourteen days before he can participate in a league game, and the lists are open for inspection at any meeting of the league, and these it is intended to make weekly in future.

The games for the week are: On Saturday, Scottish-Americans vs. New Rochelle, at Newark, and on Sinday, Americas vs. Brooklyn Wanderers, at West Hoboken. The official referees appointed for these games are J. A. Young of the Brooklyn Wanderers for the game at Newark, and A. Henderson of the Centreville A. C. for the Brooklyn Wanderers' game at West Hoboken on Sunday.

Against College Football,

BOSTON, March 5 .- Daniel Buckley, editor of the Cambridge News, appeared before the Committee on Judiciary at the State House to-day in favor of his petition for legislation to prohibit football games between students of different colleges. He came to the Legislature a year ago conteges. He came to the Legislature a year ago upon a similar errand, but was unsuccessful. This year her hinks the task before him does no look so hopeless. The action of the President and fellows of Harvard has given inm cutrage. Mr. Buchley gave his opinion of the sport at length. He regards it as absolutely brutalizing. It is a matter of regret to him that, while women are not found at encounters between jugitists, they resort in large numbers to the more brutal game of football. He thought women should not encourage these brutal sports by their presence.

Arthur, the well-known horseman, has moved his training stable to commodious quarters at Parkville so as to be ready for impending campaign among the trotters, which promises to open unusually early this year. MASTERS PLAYING CHESS.

AN INTERESTING MATCH BETWEEN MIESES AND TEICHMANN.

They Play Alternately at the English and Metropolitan Chess Clubs of London-Telchmann Wins Two of the First Four Games and Misses Captures Out. Misses went from Paris to London and a few days after his arrival in the English metropolis a chess match of four games up was arranged to be played against R. Teichmann. The games are played alternately at the British and Metropolitan Chesa clubs at a time limit of twenty inoves. The first two drawn games do not count, but subsequent games, in which honors re-main easy, will score one-half point to each.

The first game was played at the British C. C. on Feb. 16, and was drawn. The second and third games were contested on Feb. 17 and 18, and were both won by Teichmann, while Mieses scored his first victory on Feb. 19. The games follow:

NOTES BY MIESES.

(a) The treatment of this opening, as tried here, occurred in a game played by Mason against Marco at the laise Letisde tournament, and is not considered good for white. Better is kt x kt or Q-R 5.

(b) It is questionable whether the text move or B-K 2 would have been the better move.

(c) White will avoid the exchange of queens by means of Q-kt 4; he would, however, have done better to play P-Q 3 at once.

(d) black threatened B x Kt and R-K B. White origin to have neutralized this threat by means of Kt-Kt and Kt-K B 3.

(e) Stronger would have been 17...P-Q 5; 18, Q-K 4 ch, K-H; 19. Kt-Q, Kt-Q 2, &c.

(f) Q Kt-K 2 ought to have been played here.

The Owl Club's Stag.

The regular monthly stag of the Owl Club was held last night in the club's rooms, 448 West Fifty-first street. In an eight-round "go" between Joe Hopkins and Sam Boland, two colored 12%-pounders, after calling the argument a draw, the referee took offence at a disapproving remark made by one of the spectators and declared that had the bout continued Hopkins would have been whipped, a queer performance on the part of a referee.

Paddy Rich and Jimmy Allen, at 115 pounds, put up their hands for six rounds. It was a vicious go in which both tasted the bitter effects of each other's well-directed blows. In the last of each other's well-directed blows. In the last round, when matters took on a very queer hue, the police, who were sented beside the ring, atopped the bout. The mill wasthen declared a draw.

The eight-round fight between Hopkins and Boland came next. Holand soon showed his friends that he knew a thing or two about the game, and sailled forth to stop Hopkins's hurricanerusbes. In the first round he hit Hopkins very hard, but in the next Joe landed several singer on the force body, and neck which fold in the third round Hopkins led saveral times, and ran into a straight fit.

Near the close of has mound Hopkins punched sam on the ness, and the claret restundes. This boys mixed it up in the hear two rounds. In the last two rounds Hopkins rushed repeatedly, and did good work. But Boland played for the stomach and wind, and had his man in distress when the battle ended. Martin Dowling, Hilly Plinmer's former backer, officiated as time-keeper.

The report of the Treasurer showed that a balance had been carried over from last season, and with expectations of several new members and with expectations of several new members joining, it is the intention to place a second eleven in the field. G. Hake will have charge of this, and he intends arranging a good schedule of games for it during June, July, and August. The members learned with considerable satisfaction that S. Pedlow, who kept wickets for the club so successfully two years ago, will be again available this season, and there is no doubt that the club is creatly strengthened thereby. the club is greatly strengthened thereby

A Great Amateur Billiard Match Probable. Wide interest is being manifested in amateur billiard circles over the negotiations for a cue hattle between Wilson P. Foss of Haverstraw and "Clem" Ellison of Chicago, the Windy City amateur crack. The Brunswick-Balko Company has offered a cup to cost not less than $250 and typical of the amateur championship if the experts will play. It will be a battle of the East against the West, and it is proposed that it shall be a three nights encounter at fourteen-inch back line of 1,200, in blocks of fourteen-ipch balk line of 1,200, in blocks of 400 points a night.

Mr. Foss had a conference yesterday with Mr. A. F. Troescher and is willing to go to Chicago and play. The conditions were telegraphed to Ellison, and Mr. Foss is now awaiting his reply. Foss was practising vesterday afternoon at Slosson's, with a crowd of amateurs watching him admiringly. If the match is made it will be in a nublic hall, but admission will be free by card of invitation, and no stakes will be played for, in order that the victor may still rank as an amatour.

Chairman Gideon of the L. A. W. Racing Board has awarded a sanction to the Crescent Wheelmen of Plainfield to hold a race meet on Decoration Day, and as a result the Union County Roadsters of Rahway, who have always held a tournament on this date, are up in arms protesting against the refusal of the league to grant them a sanction. Owing to the fact that the two places are close by, the Racing Board refuse to sanction two race meets upon the same day, and, acting upon the receipt of the first application received, the Chairman of the Racing Hoard has awarded a sanction to the Crescent Wheelmen. The Union County Roadsters claim that they applied for the date—May 30—last fall, but that H. E. Raymond, who was then Chairman of the Racing Board, referred them to his successor in office.

It is reported that Chairman George R. Gideen Long, and W. E. Iway.
